Pool rescue exercise manikin

Description

The Pool Rescue Manikin is designed specifically for lifeguard training and developed with assistance from the Royal Life Saving Society (RLSS) UK. It has been tested extensively by RLSS trained lifeguards and has been officially endorsed by the RLSS UK as a tool for lifeguards.
This manikin has been created to allow trainee lifeguards to learn all the skills required to safely retrieve a person from the pool. It is a lifeguard dummy that allows you to teach a variety of skills.
The Pool Rescue manikin is available in two sizes, Adult and Junior.
Designed with assistance from RLSS UK and recommended by them for assessment and training.
Carefully designed and tested to create realistic buoyancy - it will sink, yet is buoyant enough to float when being towed. It will feel like an unconscious person in the water.
The use of a manikin can reduce the need to use volunteers in training scenarios, thereby avoiding potential injury and any embarrassment caused by close personal contact.
Includes a face with human-like features, allowing the trainee to check the mouth for possible obstructions as part of their rescue.
Flexible arms, reinforced with strong webbing allow the arms to be raised aloft, letting lifeguards practice hauling the victim from the water using correct lifting techniques.
Constructed using a reinforced Nylon mesh which allows water ingress, meaning the manikin will sink when placed in water.
Mesh allows for ventilation and rapid draining when the manikin is retrieved from the water.
The adult manikin is supplied with a mesh carry sheet which is recommended for storing the manikin and transportation, and detailed care instructions.
