PETZL FALCON MOUNTAIN Sit-harness, combining lightness and great comfort, particularly suitable for climbing rescue operations.

Description

Ultra-reliable, comfortable equipment is essential for technical climbing rescue operations. PETZL's FALCON MOUNTAIN harness combines safety and practicality to ensure missions in the best possible conditions.

Unbeatable comfort:

- A slim, semi-rigid design with 3D foam padding for the waistband and thighbands
- Freedom of movement with a slimmer hip belt
- Textile attachment points for occasional use

Ergonomic design:

- DOUBLEBACK self-locking buckles for easy adjustment
- RING2RING ring can be added to the ventral attachment point to connect other equipment
- Installation of a TOP or TOP CROLL L torso through the loop at the back of the harness
- Four equipment holders and two tool loops

This equipment is specially designed for climbing rescue operations, thanks to its ventral attachment point with textile belay loop. It enables you to make better progress in technical climbing and to walk with ease.
