Compact, ultra-lightweight PETZL ANGE S carabiner with MonoFil finger for mountaineering and big-pitch climbing. Features Keylock system, available in two colors (orange or gray).

Description

Spend several days in the mountains and enjoy big-pitch climbing. Discover or improve mountaineering techniques. The joys of high altitude activities! The ANGE S carabiner from PETZL is the perfect ally for your climbing sessions, thanks in particular to its featherweight design - a good way of keeping your weight down.

Practical use

- An extremely lightweight (28 g), compact accessory
- H-format to combine efficiency and excellent performance with low weight

Easy clipping and unclipping

- MonoFil finger (longer life than conventional wiregate carabiners)
- Keylock system to prevent accidental snagging
- Evacuation of the elements (gravel, snow, etc.) made possible by the opening on the carabiner's spout
- Flat back for better grip
- Improved rope passage and wear resistance thanks to large rope and anchor contact zones

PETZL's ANGE S carabiner is available in two colors, light gray and orange.
