Adjustable PETZL VOLTIGE torso to complement a sit harness. Designed to maintain a vertical position during suspension and abseiling.

Description

For working at height, specific equipment combines comfort and safety. This is particularly true of PETZL's VOLTIGE torso, which helps climbers stay upright during suspension and abseiling. It can be used to complete a sit-harness, turning it into a full-body harness!

With its two DOUBLEBACK adjustment buckles, the torso is very easy to install. It also features a dorsal crosspiece for perfect strap positioning. Thanks to its reversible design, the buckles can easily be positioned on the shoulders or under the arms.

The VOLTIGE torso is available in black.
