PETZL NIMBO crashpad for bouldering with a sit start. Also indispensable for protecting the spaces between two crashpads.

Description

During bouldering sessions, everything is designed to ensure your safety. This is particularly true of crashpads, but also of booster pads, such as PETZL's NIMBO model. It's specially designed for seated starts, but also to protect the spaces between two crashpads. It offers even greater safety during climbing sessions!

- High-quality foam pad for excellent cushioning
- Easy to carry thanks to its handle
- Highly resistant materials to protect against falls and ensure durability between intensive use and transport
- Waterproof fabric with reinforcements in exposed areas
- Protective bottom seams that touch the ground

The PETZL NIMBO Crashpad is two-tone (orange and black).
