Ultra-light, compact PETZL GULLY ice axe with steel head for technical mountaineering and steep skiing. A highly technical and efficient accessory.

Description

Mountaineering and steep skiing require highly technical equipment. PETZL's GULLY ice axe is a must-have for safe outings. In addition to its ultra-light weight of 280 grams, it combines practicality and efficiency.

- Easy anchoring and release thanks to a steel head and a banana blade tapered to 3 mm at the tip.
- Streamlined tip and hammer for cleaning holds or rehooking pitons
- A TRIGREST support wedge for easy adjustment of the hand or index finger position in the pull position
- A compact 45-centimeter size
- A bevelled tip for storing the ice axe in the bag without damaging it

The ice axe can be fitted with inertia weights for improved anchoring in very cold ice.
