PETZL FIFI suspension hook, designed for artificial climbing. An essential tool for artificial climbers, it facilitates positioning and progression.

Description

When it comes to artificial climbing, certain tools are an integral part of the climber's equipment. Like the PETZL FIFI suspension hook. This item requires a great deal of attention to its positioning and the movements made by the climber. Practical, it offers many advantages for your climbing sessions.

- A groove for connecting a recovery system to the MAILLON RAPIDE n° 5
- Top load recovery thanks to the link's movement in the groove.
- Lower carabiner hole for easy connection of a lanyard, stirrups or bag.
- Designed in steel, a material appreciated for its strength and resistance to impact.

PETZL's FIFI suspension hook is ideal for positioning, advancing and hoisting loads.
